RUGBY W.I. TO SEND GIRLS TO O.S.A. SEWING COURSE

The Rugby W.I. meeting this month was held at the home of Mrs. Hoosegood with an attendance of eleven. It was a very early April Fool's day, the sun shone early and then it snowed and drifted. It is hoped that all members reached home safely, and when, oh when is spring coming!

It was arranged to send two girls, Miss Jean Krebs and Miss B. Cowitz, to the sewing course being held at the O.S.A. at the end of April.

Another food parcel is to be sent to a needy family in Britain in the near future.

Mrs. H. Hoosegood took the topic for the day, "Canadian Industries" and gave a most interesting talk on this subject. Mrs. O. Krebs' reading "Auction Sale Bill," caused much merriment.

The meeting closed as usual and lunch followed.

The May meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Hogg.

T. MORRIS, W. IRWIN ON BREEDING CLUB BOARD

The annual meeting of the Olds Livestock Breeding Club was held at the O.S.A. on Saturday, March 13th. Despite the poor condition of the roads about forty members were present.

Hans Randers, president of the Board of Directors since the organization of the club in 1943, acted as chairman.

The financial statement read by the secretary showed a very small margin of profit for the operation of the club during the past year. After considerable discussion it was moved that in view of the increased cost of operation that the services fees be raised from the present $4 to $5 per cow with the change to take effect April 1st, 1948.

It was the general feeling of the meeting that despite the rather poor concentration rate during the past year, this service was a great asset to the community.

The election of officers took place and the following were chosen to head the Club during 1948.

President, Hans Randers; Directors: Thos. Buchanan, F.A. Charlton, Bowden; C. H. Thomas, Olds; Thos. Morris, Walter Irwin, Didsbury; Ray Armstrong, R.R.1, Olds; Ray Wood, S. Frising, Carstairs.

Secretary-treasurer: Bruce Baird, Auditor: I. G. Paulson.

TALKS INCREASE IN THE PRICE OF WHEAT

Agricultural Minister James G. Gardiner said recently there probably would be a 20-cent boost in initial wheat payments some time next year.

He said that part of the $230,000,000 in the Wheat Board treasury was being disbursed this year, in the 20-cent increase announced last week. But as a result of the $2-a-bushel price negotiated last fall under the British-Canadian wheat agreements, an additional 20-cent increase probably could be made next year.

The increase would bring the initial price paid Canadian farmers to $1.75 a bushel.

LADIES SPORTS CLUB ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS

Members of the Ladies' Sports Club branched away from their usual activities and spent last Thursday evening entertaining their husbands and friends in Betty's Beauty Salon. Whist was played most of the evening, and prizes were won by Mrs. W. Skerry, Mr. Wendell Goehoe, Mrs. Gus Bittner and Mr. Jim Nelson. A delicious lunch of sandwiches, pie and coffee was then served to bring a successful evening to a close.

FISH AND GAME ASS'N NETS $25 AT WHIST PARTY

The whist party sponsored by the Didsbury Fish & Game Association in the Lions Hall last Wednesday night was not as well attended as it could have been, due to the absence of many Game Association members, but there was a crowd of about 75 present and all seemed to have an enjoyable evening.

High score prizes were won by Mrs. Walter McCoy and Mr. H. Bowman, and consolations went to Mrs. H. Fischer and C. Alden.

Following the cards, lunch was served by the ladies and Mr. Wayne Stauffer then showed three reels of wild life motion pictures which were enjoyed by the audience. Ken McCoy, president of the Didsbury Fish and Game Association, addressed the gathering for a few minutes and urged both town and country people to join the local association and help in the conservation of wild life.

Mrs. R. A. Gulliver of Okotoks was a Didsbury visitor last weekend. Mrs. Gulliver teaches music at Okotoks and in a recital held March 22nd, 18 pupils took part, and the sum of $20 was cleared for the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. Gulliver was presented with a bouquet of flowers from her music pupils.

RED CROSS COLLECTIONS REACH THE $1200 MARK

W. A. Austin, chairman of the campaign committee of the Didsbury branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, has reported that to date $1200 has been subscribed by citizens of town and district but many canvassers have not yet reported on collections.

The campaign closes on April 15 and anyone who still wishes to donate to the Red Cross is urged to do so immediately. The need is urgent and the time is short.

Canvassers are asked to report to the chairman immediately on all collections.

Rebecca, heroic Eskimo girl who accompanied Mrs. John Turner, widow of the Arctic missionary, the late Canon Turner, to England last year, will be among the first passengers to arrive by Canadian Pacific steamer at Montreal this season. English climate and diet has not agreed with Rebecca, seen here with Mrs. Turner's two small children. Meanwhile the drive to provide a pension for the gallant Mrs. Turner and her three children (a third having been born in England) continues. Contributions from Western Canada should be sent to Dr. H. M. Speechly, 232 Home Street, Winnipeg.

WEDDINGS

HUNTER-WORRALL

The home of Rev. and Mrs. Musson of Olds was the scene of a double-wedding service at 2 p. m. on April 3, when Jeanette Fay, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Worrall became the bride of Lawrence Alexander Hunter of Didsbury, youngest son of Mrs. Emily Hunter of Calgary and the late Thomas Hunter of Didsbury. Mr. James Worrall gave his daughter's hand in marriage.

The bride, whose flowers were deep pink roses, wore a neplum dress of dusky pink trimmed with blue and small flowered hat to match, with shoulder length veil and a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid, Miss Joyce Wood, cousin of the bride, wore a deep cream dress and carried pink carnations, with a bandeau of white flowers with jewelled centres on her dark hair.

Mr. Bert Strain, of Lethbridge, supported the groom.

Mrs. Emily Hunter, mother of the groom, wore a rose crepe gown and Mrs. James Worrall a flowered jersey for the occasion, and both wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Musson kindly assisted in serving tea after the signing of the register, when the three-tiered cake was cut and served. The happy couple left Didsbury by train later for Calgary on a short honeymoon. They will reside in the Neapolis district on their return.

H. E. BALFOUR TO SPEAK ON THE SCHOOL QUESTION

Mr. H. E. Balfour of the Department of Education will be present at the public meeting next Thursday evening, April 8, at 8 p. m. when the proposed plan to include the Didsbury School District No. 652 in the Olds School Division No. 31, will be discussed.

The argument has already been signed between the Boards and notices posted about town, giving details as to means of protest that any elector may wish to make. If, any, to the proposed amalgamation. It is expected that the matter will be fully discussed at the meeting next Thursday night in the Lions Hall and it is hoped that the ratepayers of the Didsbury School District will turn out so that they can obtain first hand information on the whole school question.

Miss H. Law has taken a position with her brother, George Law, in the drug store.

WESTCOTT NEWS NOTES

The H. Wishtuen family moved back to this district last week. Welcome back, Henry and Ellen.

Mr. Tom Swanby of Mossleigh, Alberta, a former resident of this district, was renewing old acquaintances in this district last week.

Aren't we ever going to get spring this year? Last week it either snowed or blowed every day and made roads almost impassable at times, and this week it's no better. The feed situation too, is getting really quite serious and stock is beginning to show the effects of the hard winter.

I guess our teacher, Miss Paskweyak was snowbound in the north country, as she didn't make it for Monday morning school sessions. The children held the fort till noon and then came home to await her return.

The work on the new United Church is going right ahead these days and it will look quite attractive when finished, and will greatly add to the scenery on that location with the towering pine trees in the background.

The fire bell sounded just at six o'clock Thursday night when a small fire in Rantons' store caused some excitement for a few minutes. Fortunately the blaze was not serious and the flames were put out before volunteer helpers arrived on the scene. Cause of the small fire is said to be fuel oil, used for the stove, being spilled on the floor and heat from the stove caused it to ignite.

A motorist was bumping along a remote country road when he reached a spot where a river crossed the road.

"Can I get over this creek in my car?" he called to an old negro who was standing on the bank.

"Yes, sah, just drive right through," he was told.

A moment later, the motorist was stranded in mid stream, his engine flooded and the water up to his waist.

"What do you mean by telling me I can drive through the creek?" he angrily demanded of the negro.

"Well boss," the old man drawled, "I never knowed dat water was so deep. It only comes half way up on my ducks."

WHO DOES YOUR PRINTING?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them.

Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

COST OF LIVING INDEX HIGHEST IN HISTORY

The Bureau of Statistics says Canada's cost-of-living index has climbed higher than it has ever been in history. The figure stands at 150.8 as of March 1. The index increased only seven-tenths of one point in the period between February 2 and March 1. That was the smallest one-month increase in seven months. But nevertheless it brings the figure up above the previous all-time high of 150.6 recorded in July of 1920.

The Bureau says the increase during February was "unusual in that the whole amount was contributed by the non-food sections of the index."

Clothing recorded a jump of 4.8 points from 163.1 to 169.9. Home services and furnishings joined the upward spiral too.

The food group actually declined fractionally.

Canadian farm products eased from 138.6 to 139.5 in the same period as reductions in potatoes, hay and hides outbalances increases in rye, oats and livestock.

The index is calculated on the basis that living costs in 1935-39 equaled 100.

While the present trend may indicate that the index will remain stationary or even fall off slightly, there are still the proposed increases in freight rates to be taken into account. These increases, authorized last week by the Board of Transport Commissioners, will be reflected in the retail prices of many goods. They may not appear in the index, however, for two or three months.

EYE OPENER

Here is the story. An overworked business man had been ordered by physicians to knock off all work for a month and go to some spot where no mail, newspapers or friends could reach him. But after a couple of weeks' having become a regular for news of any kind he made his way miles across country to a little station and wired for his colored companion to come and see him. Next day the colored coachman arrived and his master asked him for news of the city.

"Dar ain't no news what I can recollect," said the old darky. "Nothing worth mentioning."

But Sam scratched his head hard for a few minutes.

"Now that I come to think of it your ole dog done gone and died," he said.

"What, old Carlo dead? Well that's too bad. What did he die of?"

"Eaten" to much burnt horse flesh, I reckon."

"Where in thunder did the dog get the burnt horse flesh?"

"We sah, when your barn burnt up your hoss just natchally burnt up too."

"Great Scott. My barn burned and all my horses. Man alive how did it happen?"

"Well sah de candle dat fell over in the wake set fire to de curtains in your house, and de sparks from de flames when de house burnt up his natchally."

"And my house is burned up you say?"

"Yessah."

"And what is this talk about a wake?"

"Well you see sah, your mother-in-law died?"

"What in heavens name did she die of? She was all right when I left."

"Well I dunno sah, but de neighbors claimed she died of shock when she heard that your wife had skinned out with de chauffeur. No dere ain't no news I guess — Eye Opener, 1964."

Doctor: "Nine out of ten patients die under this operation. Is there anything I can do for you before I begin?"

Patient: "Yeah, get me my hat and coat!"

Mother was admonishing her little daughter.

"Do you know," he said, "that every time you misbehave I get another grey hair?"

"Oh, Mummy," answered the child, "what a naughty girl you must have been. Just look at grandma!"

"I haven't seen you at church lately, William," said the vicar.

"What's the matter?"

"My daughter's learning to play the harp," replied William.

"But what's that got to do with it?"

"Well, I'm not so keen on going to Heaven as I was."

HELP THE TOWN AND HELP YOURSELF

Didsbury is coming into its own as a town of sizable proportions and will continue to prosper only if we, as individuals, help the town along its upward trend. A good town must have good streets, sidewalks, fine schools, modern facilities and prosperous business establishments. When the waterworks system is installed and the streets regraded and surfaced we will have most of the requisites of a good town, but not all, unless our business houses are prosperous, too. And businesses cannot be on a sound footing unless they receive the patronage of the people of the whole community. A country town not only depends on the farming district surrounding it, but on the people of the town itself for prosperity and advancement. We depend on each other for business and prosperity and it is the duty of each and every one of us in Didsbury to buy at home wherever possible; deal with our fellow merchants, and to help our town to achieve the status which rightfully belongs to it, but which cannot be attained unless we forget about how much the other fellow is making, and spend every dollar we have to spend in our own town of Didsbury, with our own local merchants. If we do this we will not only have a good town but prosperous business establishments supplying goods and services for the benefit and enjoyment of the entire population of the Didsbury district.

THE LOTTERY BUGABOO

The town council recently received through its Police Chief a circular letter from the Attorney-General's Department, Edmonton, stressing the fact that lotteries, raffles, etc., are taboo and individuals and organizations indulging in same are liable to prosecution. Exceptions are occasional bingo games and small raffles not exceeding $50 sponsored by charitable organizations and religious bodies who have first gained permission of the town council to conduct same.

There are two sides to the question of lotteries and raffles. We can see the government's point in ruling out lotteries thus protecting the public from being robbed by large scale operators of shady character who are more interested in personal gain than in charitable institutions.

However, what of the workers in the small communities?

In order to constantly foster community activity there must be funds always available. It is not to be expected that these funds can always be secured through public subscription. The provincial government will most certainly not step in and give an adequate grant to the varied activities in a normal community. Then where is the money to come from if not lotteries and raffles which are supervised in 99 cases out of 100 by some community organization interested in community welfare.—Coleman Journal.

Medical Officer of Health Says Diphtheria can be Prevented

(This is the second of a series of articles outlined by the Rosebud Health Unit.)

The word "Diphtheria", up until 50 years ago, was a dreaded word in the ears of every mother. The pronouncement that her child had this disease meant that it had one chance in two or three of recovering. In 1888 the germ called diphtheria was discovered. A crude but effective antitoxin was prepared and used in treatment against the diphtheria germ in 1895. Results from specific treatment, if given early in the disease, were good and chances of dying dropped to one in twenty. It was then discovered that if children and adults were given small controlled doses of Diphtheria Toxoid by injection, the toxoid called forth protective complex chemical compounds in the body which we call immunity. Persons accepting the series of injections were turned into a group who were now very difficult to infect with the disease, even when the germs were actually injected into their bodies. The case of the disease in old days were contracted by an individual getting the germs by chance from an actual case or from a carrier of the disease. We now have various preparations of pure diphtheria toxoids available and can offer protection against the serious disease to anyone.

Now this is where the co-operation of the general public is required to help in controlling diphtheria. It is up to the individual whether he accepts immunization or wishes to gamble his luck against contracting the disease. No one can force you to be pricked with a hypodermic needle. Your consent to such action is necessary. Parents are responsible for their children and their consent is required before they can be inoculated. This is why a slip is sent home for parents to fill in before any inoculations are given in schools. Some parents are slack and do not fill in these slips under the impression if the doctor or nurse thinks their child needs an inoculation, one will be given. This will not happen. The consent slip must be signed first.

Broadly speaking, every child is liable to take diphtheria. This is why every child should receive protection in the form of immunization as early in life as possible. Let us examine some figures which will show a long way to prove the case for immunizations.

Here, in simple figures, is the history of Diphtheria in the province of Ontario. The population in that province was under 2 million in 1880 and had risen to over 3½ million in 1936:

Year	Cases	Deaths
1881		1704
1891		852
1901	2627	772
1911	2631	423
1921	6313	653
1931	2368	157
1932	1496	89
1933	529	40
1935	361	33
1937	506	30
1939	131	13
1940	73	9

The use of Diphtheria Toxoid as a preventative measure was introduced in 1931. From then on the incidence of the disease shows a steep decline. The abruptness of the change in the picture, coupled with the established efficiency of toxoid, leaves no room for doubt that the change is due to active immunization.

Figures show that when 60 per cent of the preschool and school children are protected against diphtheria, the incidence of the disease drops rapidly. Our aim in the public Health field is to convince the parents that with 100 per cent of the children immunized, we can say that diphtheria will be a disease of the past.

It is a well known fact that most diseases are more serious if contracted as babies or young children than in later years. Diphtheria is no exception. Therefore, your child should be immunized early in life.

The best time to have a child immunized is between 18 and 12 months. The longer it is put off the more you gamble with the health of your child against this disease.

Three inoculations are required to ensure protection. They are given at monthly periods for convenience. Longer intervals do not nullify previous injections, as many believe.

Older children at school, who have never been previously inoculated, can also receive injections. They can be Schick tested to see if they have an immunity or not. Any member of the staff of the Health Unit will be only too pleased to answer questions on the case for immunization. Inoculations can be started at any time and are done free of charge at the Clinic Office in Didsbury or at any of the Sub-clinics held in the towns of the district. A single dose re-inoculation is advised before the child starts for school, say at age 6 years and again at age 12, to boost immunity during the susceptible school years. Thereafter, immunity remains at a sufficiently high level through life.

It is useless to wait until a case of diphtheria has been reported before taking advantage of this free immunization service.

Complete immunity does not develop until some 12 weeks after the last inoculation. Many parents wait until their child has been in contact with a disease and then come in a panic asking for these inoculations and expect the miracle to work. The miracle of protection requires time which you are being given—so make the best use of it.

Be wise, have your child immunized!

Leslie C. Allan, M.B.C.B., D.P.M. Medical Officer of Health.

JET-PROPELLED TOYS BEING MADE IN BRITAIN

Jet-propelled model aircraft, racing cars and ships capable of speeds of 30 m.p.h. and more, are now being made by an English toy firm. Motive power is provided by tiny jet cartridges, closed at one end by a cardboard disc and at the other by a thin metal disc pierced with a central hole, which is the jet. All a child needs to do is to clip a cartridge into the motor and light the end of the igniter wick which passes through the jet. The cartridge then burns quietly, without flame or sparks, and produces a thrust capable of propelling a toy racing car, for example, at speeds greater than 30 m.p.h. The model aeroplane is raised off the ground to a considerable height and when the jet is exhausted, continues in a long glide. The propellant is non-explosive and can be handled and operated by a child in perfect safety.

"You pronounced that wrong," said the man. "It's San Hosay. In California you pronounce all the J's as H's. When were you there?"

The woman thought for moment, then answered, in "In Hune and Huly."

When the price of food is subsidized, the cost of the subsidy must be spread over the cost of all the food and goods produced in Canada. And when everyone has taken out and paid back his share of the subsidy everyone will be out the cost of his share of the book-keeping which will be a dead loss.—The Scene.

OVENS PREVENT BREAD MONOPOLY

The spectacle of a parliamentary committee investigating the possibility of price fixing in the price of bread is ludicrous. There can be no effective monopoly or cartel when almost every woman in this country has an oven in which to bake her own bread and those who haven't ovens a ten cent loaf of quality equal to the higher priced loaves available to them.—The Scene.

FARMERS' ACCOUNT BOOK AND INCOME TAX GUIDE

Recently, one of the dailies featured a story of a man standing on a busy street corner and offering to sell ten dollar bills for one dollar. He made very few sales because the passers-by were suspicious. We can imagine their chagrin on reading the newspaper account and learning the bills were genuine.

The new farm account books are like that ten dollar bill—it is genuine. Its value has already been attested by many leading farm organizations and farmers.

It was designated by the Dept. of National Revenue in a sincere effort to help farmers. To save them time, trouble and worry. There are no strings attached. The account book is free for the asking. By using it, the farmer in no conceivable way obligates himself—any more than if he had ever seen or used a copy at all.

First and foremost, it provides farmers with a simple bookkeeping system. A few minutes each week will enable him to keep accurate records. These records will tell him exactly where he stands—what progress his farm is making—where he is making or losing money.

These records in the farm account book are numbered to correspond exactly with the T-1 tax form. In April each year, when the farmer makes out his tax return for 1948, all he needs to do is transfer the totals from his account book to the form. He eliminates the need for and saves the cost of expert help.

Equally important to the farmer, the farm account book shows him the deductions he can make for expenses and for depreciation. How much, for example, he can deduct for depreciation on a barn, a tractor or any of the 75 items of common farm equipment.

Additional advantageous features explained in the farm account book are the three year Average Plan and the basic herd.

Both are optional. The farmer can use them or not, as he sees fit. In many cases it will be to his personal advantage to do so—and the farm account book shows him how.

In brief, the farm account book and Income Tax Guide has been designed in a spirit of fair play to help the farmer and give him all the benefits to which he is entitled by law. He has nothing to lose and everything to gain by giving him a fair trial.

In the words of the Hon. J.J. McCann, M.D., our Minister of National Revenue—"Our farmers are the mainstay of our prosperity and when we help him we help every citizen in the land."

Some 7,000 farms in Alberta are getting electricity from wind or engine driven individual farm plants, according to E.B. Martin, extension agricultural engineer for the province. Another 3,000 farms are being served by highline power. This gives the total of 10,000 farms in Alberta that are served with electricity. The total number of farms in Alberta is 89,600.

SEE 135,000 LOW COST CARS FOR CANADA IN 1948

If you have had your eye set on a Cadillac, Packard, Lincoln or Buick or even a less expensive but imported American-made car, you may have to do a lot of waiting says the Financial Post.

The word from the trade, now that auto men know where they stand with Ottawa's controls, is that high priced cars for Canadians have gone with the spending wind that whisked away so much of our U.S. dollar reserves.

The Post is told that the only cars available to Canadians in any, thing like last year's supply will be low and medium range products of Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

The way things look now, there will just about be as many Canadian made cars produced this year as last (about 165,000; second largest on record).

One manufacturer is even expecting to make a few more. But because customers will be stepping down out of the higher-price class, there will be more people after them.

The outlook, the trade feels, is for a tightening up all around of supply when it looked like demand was beginning to catch up.

But the only cars which will be available in volume will be Fords, Mercurys, Monarchs, Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobile 6's, Chryslers, DeSotos, Plymouths and Dodges—all in the low or medium price range field.

How many will be available for domestic consumption? Roughly 135,000 or about 20,000 less than last year. This is after a loss of about 26,000 due to the U.S. quota and gains of about 6,000 due to higher U.K. imports.

By midyears, there should be lots of English cars on the market; so many that it is being freely predicted that the $7.5 million import quota will be eaten up in short order.

Here is the overall picture as revealed in a Post survey:

No Lincolns at all, at least for a while. That's definite of Ford of Canada. Last year, 230 came in. This saving will be used to take up some of the slack caused by the cut in imports of parts for Canadian-made cars.

General Motors has announced the same policy regarding high-priced lines. Last year roughly seven thousand Buicks were brought in. None this year for a while anyway; nor Cadillacs nor Oldsmobile 8's.

Packard will be able to bring a mere handful—275 against 1,840 last year. Last year, one Toronto dealer alone took 150 cars.

Hudson: for every six Hudsons last year, one this. What makes the austerity pill harder for Hudson to swallow is the fact that they have a brand-new postwar car to sell.

Nash is in the same economic boat although its prospects are considerably brighter in view of plans to produce cars in its Toronto plant.

Kaiser-Fraser has just about decided to forget about Canada until austerity blows over. Last year they sold roughly over 7,000 cars. Quota this year: 1,000 to 1,200. In case a price factor enters the picture. Many K-F dealers have turned to other thing, notably farm implements.

Studebakers are going to be virtually non-existent as far as new cars are concerned until the Hamilton plant starts to roll in midsummer. The idea is to conserve their dollar quota by not importing completed cars, to have more for Canadian production.

Last year 9,000 Studebakers were imported. This year, the company hopes to turn out 3,600 Canadian-made cars. Approximately 25% of these are marked for export.

The Little Crosley car has been hit hardest of all 1948 quota, a scant 28 cars. This is because they didn't appear on the Canadian scene until well into 1947, and the quota is based on the number imported during the base period, regardless of any other factor. Toronto Crosley distributors were in Ottawa recently arguing their case.

Whatever the outcome, there won't be any more Crosleys cars for a while. To introduce Canadians to the Crosley station wagon they plan bringing in nothing but this model. Cost $1,675 delivered in Toronto.

Willys has decided against im-

Have you $10.00 in UNITED STATES Money?

Existing regulations make it illegal for any Canadian resident to retain in his possession more than $10 in United States cash.

You are required to turn in to your bank, for exchange into Canadian money, any amount you have in excess of $10 in United States funds, without delay.

THERE'S A REASON

The reason is that Canada must have the U.S. dollars spent here by tourists, in order to make them available for the payment of imported goods and services needed to keep production and employment at a high level.

porting any more station wagons. From now until the end of austerity they're going to concentrate on Jeeps and Jeep trucks.

The new French government is reported to have purchased 5,000 British-made Ferguson tractors from the Standard Motors of England for $8,000,000,000.

ARE YOU GETTING THE TAX DEDUCTIONS YOU ARE ENTITLED TO?

The Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide shows you how!

How much can you deduct for depreciation on your tractor? Your automobile? A shed? What expenses can you deduct? There are 75 articles in common farm use plus a wide variety of deductible expenses for which depreciation can be charged—all listed in the new Farm Account Book. These legal deductions from your income are a big question at Income Tax Time and the answers to them and to dozens of other questions are in this new Farm Account Book.

A Record of Your Transactions and a Guide to Your Income Tax Return

WHAT IT DOES—Keeps a clean record, helps you budget—and shows you whether you have made or lost money on your operations. Shows you, too, what your best lines are and where you may be farming at a loss. Saves you hours of time from book keeping. First ten pages are for your receipts—from sales of crops, seeds, livestock, poultry, dairy products and all other produce. Then come twelve pages of all farm expenses—you are reminded of items you might otherwise forget. Establish a basic herd, apply for the three-year-average plan, calculate your depreciation item by item. These are money-savers for every farmer. They're all in the new Farm Account Book.

DEDUCTIONS—Every farmer is entitled to deductions and he is expected by the department to take full advantage of his rights. The Farm Account Book tells you about many items in easy question-and-answer form. For instance—"What can I claim as expenses for repairs?" The answer is "any expense to keep a machine or a building in working order can be claimed." Altogether there are answers to over 60 questions. No one is required to pay more than his fair share of tax. Comments from Letters to the New Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide "A long awaited step for the benefit and progress of our Canadian farmers" "Takes the kinks out of keeping farm records" "Pleased to recommend this Account Book for farm people" "Record keeping in its simplest form—a real help" "Something we have been needing for a long time"

AN AGELESS COMMUNION

(By H.G.L. Strange)

As the sun daily mounts higher in the heavens; as the spring's warmth unfolds earth's flowers; as the frost retreats, unlocking long dormant odours of farm and countryside; as migrating birds return from their southern habitats; then does the farmer shake off his winter lethargy and prepare for that age-long, mystical ritual, that ceremony of communion with nature, which is to provide mankind with its daily bread.

Since the beginning of recorded time, this ceremony has been the most important in the life of man so much so that in all ages Higher Power has been implored to bring Divine Blessings upon the work of the farmer. In ancient times Isis of Egypt, Demeter of Greece and Ceres of Rome were worshipped as goddesses of earth and plants and bread.

This ceremony for which all farmers are now preparing is that of assisting in the wedding of the bridegroom, seed, and the bride, earth; to bring about the transformation of yellow seed and brown earth, through the magic of sunlight and rain, into green plants thence to golden grain, and so to bread for man, and to seed for endless similar future cycles.

Teacher: "Junior, who are the heathens?"
Junior: "Heathens are people who don't quarrel over religion."

The manager heard that the $30 a-week clerk had a car and asked him how he could afford it, with four children.

"Oh, that's easy," said the clerk. "There are 500 of us employed at this factory. I raffle my wages every week at four bits a chance."

Girl's father: "Young man, we turn out the lights at 10.30 in this house."

Boy friend: "Gee, that's darn nice of you, sir."

NEWFOUNDLAND SUPPLIES
HERRING FOR AMERICAN
ZONE OF GERMANY

Newfoundland has undertaken to supply 45,000,000 pounds of herring to United States Procurement authorities. The contract is valued at about $2,700,000, and the herring will be shipped to the United States Zone in Germany. If this full quantity is supplied, there is a possibility of a repeat order being obtained.

The types of fish to be provided include hard-cured split herring and hard-cured gibbed herring packed in accordance with the Newfoundland Fisheries Board regulations. The contract calls for delivery of this large quantity from January 1 to June 15 this year, but the combined efforts of the industry will be needed to fill it, as the herring catch thus far has not been up to expectations.

MOTOR CYCLE PATROLS FOR EDMONTON AREA

Operating of motor cycle patrols this summer season has been decided upon by the directors of the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association. It is expected that four will be put into service on highways running in and out of Edmonton.

The patrols will be operated from May 24 to Labour day. They will be on duty during each week, particularly for holidays and week end traffic.

This service was provided during the previous years and was deservedly popular. Many motorists requiring emergency services in cases of breakdowns or minor accidents had good cause to commend these patrols.

Each patrol will wear a suitable uniform, indicating he is employed by the A.M.A. He also will carry First Aid and emergency repair kits.

A jeep operated by the Calgary branch of the A.M.A. has given splendid service and has been highly commended by motorists in that area. In many cases it has given emergency service to motorists.

BETTER PASTURE WILL INCREASE RETURNS

A good grass-legume pasture is one of the most economical of live stock feeds. Pasture is particularly valuable in the feeding of dairy cattle, and every effort should be made to provide succulent grazing for as long a period as possible each year.

J. E. Birdsall, Supervisor of Crop Improvement, Alberta Dept. of Agriculture, suggests that land unsuitable for cropping can often be made revenue producing by sowing with a suitable pasture mixture. He points out however, that pasture should not be confined to such lands. To keep up the condition of the entire farm every field should take its turn in raising grasses and legumes. Areas of high fertility and rainfall need a great deal of cultivation to control weeds. As a result, land in these areas quickly lose fibre and fertility, and frequent seeding of forage crops is needed to replace the loss.

Don't over-graze pastures, but on the other hand don't let growth get far ahead of the stock. New growth is more nutritious than mature growth. A good way to insure good returns is to follow the system of rotational grazing. All this means is the pasture is divided into three or four fields, and each field grazed in turn. Electric fences are very useful in confining stock to the field to be grazed. Dairywomen using this rotational grazing system find it a great help in maintaining milk production at a reasonable cost.

Information on pasture seeding and management is available from your district agriculturist, or from the Fields Crop Branch, Edmonton.

Miss Lois Neufeld spent a few days during the Easter week visiting with relatives at Red Deer, where Miss Hanna Neufeld, her sister, has been quite ill.

Farmers' wives who had their orders of chickens come in April, think now they should have dated orders for the one summer month of August.

On Saturday last, the East Calf Club was unable to hold their regular meeting at the home of H. Richardson on account of snow blocked roads, so the members and other young people of the district met at the Lone Pine Hall to make preparations for the program on Friday of this week. A very bountiful lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Richardson, who came by tractor.

Box Social and program at Lone Pine Hall on Friday night, April 9, sponsored by the East Calf Club. It is requested, ladies, that you please bring a box.

Congratulations are the order of the day to a young couple in our adjoining district, who were married on April 3rd. Happiness and success to Mr. and Mrs. L. Hunter (nee Jeanette Worrall) who will reside on her father's farm.

Mrs. John Kershaw, who has been confined to her bed at home for some time, was taken to the Didsbury hospital last week. At present Lois Krebs is helping at the Kershaw home. We all hope you'll be feeling fine soon, Amy, and able to be home again.

Don't forget the "Neighborly Can Do" meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Shantz this Thursday, April 8. Bring your apron for the apron contest and an idea to improve our lot for the "suggestion box". Roll call is a joke or an amusing incident.

We are glad to welcome to the district Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krebs and family who have taken up residence at the old Cuffling farm.
